

What You Make Possible...

Your support makes our work possible – creating a safe, healthy, and nurturing environment where every child, adolescent, and young adult can thrive.

Doula

Our doulas are there to provide support to pregnant teens at a critical moment in their lives. Childbirth education classes, support groups, and home visits empower young parents with the knowledge and confidence to prepare them for their new role. The doula is there to provide reassurance, encouragement, and guidance during labor and delivery to help the young mother have the healthiest, most positive birth experience possible.

“I was clueless when I found out I was pregnant. Now I feel much more ready to become a mother and I have learned how to take care of myself and my baby. I am so thankful for the program because my doula has helped me so much!” – Katie, 16

Healthy Families

Home visiting is proven to reduce the risk for child abuse and neglect, and provides young parents support by meeting them where they're at – right in their own home.

“The home visitor brings me a lot of information. It has educated me on what's good for my baby and has helped me to make better choices for us. It helps to talk to someone I can trust and not feel judged.” – Mary, 18

Parent Groups

Teen parents often feel isolated and alone, not knowing where to go for support. Our parent groups meet weekly at sites throughout the community, and provide a safe space where young moms and dads can find non-judgemental support with their peers.

“Being so young you feel lost, so all the info and groups have helped me feel normal, and like I can do this. Especially on my down days I remember I'm not alone.” – Alicia, 19

Prevention

We deliver prevention education to thousands of middle and high school students in the DuPage County area throughout the school year. Health Educators partner with Peer Educators, who share their personal experiences of being a young parent.

“TPC provides a unique experience by sharing personal stories that our students appreciate. Not only do our students get the perspective of a peer going through situations that we discuss in class, but they also learn about a community resource to support those in need of their services.” – Lisa Phillips, Teacher at Hinsdale South High School
